Women in Aggregates Takes Center Stage at AGG1 With 'Finding the Next Generation of Women in the Aggregates Industry'

Denver, CO – Feb. 15, 2024 – Women in Aggregates \(WIA\) invites you to an important panel discussion at AGG1, the premier aggregates event in North America. Mark your calendars for Monday, March 25 from 2:00 PM - 3:30 PM CST and be part of the conversation shaping the future of women in this dynamic industry. Attendees can add the panel to their show planner here and must pre-register.

Women in Aggregates – formed by SEMCO Publishing, parent company of Rock Products magazine – provides a supportive space for women to tackle the unique challenges and opportunities in this traditionally male-dominated industry. Its goal is to create a platform where women of all positions – from quarry workers to executives – can build connections, develop leadership skills, and advocate for the aggregates industry. By empowering women and providing them with resources, we hope to encourage more women to consider a career in the aggregates industry.

Finding the Next Generation:

The interactive “Finding the Next Generation of Women in the Aggregates Industry” panel will feature leaders sharing their own experiences, as well as tips on how to recruit and retain the next generation of women in the aggregates industry.

Panelists include:

- Resa Furey, Marketing & Business Development Manager, Global Mining at Stantec.
- Raquel Lazur, Project Manager - Southwest Aggregates at Heidelberg Materials.
- Karen Thompson, President at Haver & Boecker Niagara.

The aggregates industry holds immense potential for women, offering challenging opportunities and rewarding careers. This panel discussion provides a unique platform to:

- Gain valuable insights from industry leaders on attracting and retaining top talent.
- Discover how to create a more inclusive and empowering work environment for women.

- Network with like-minded individuals and build connections that can propel your career forward.
- Become a part of the change: advocate for diversity and inclusion within the aggregates industry.

WIA is hosting a mixer immediately after the panel, so come for the great discussion and stay for some drinks and conversations.

Join us at AGG1 and be a part of this crucial conversation. Together, we can create a vibrant future where women have equal opportunities to lead, innovate, and drive the aggregates industry forward.

Don't miss out! Register for AGG1 today and add the Women in Aggregates panel to your schedule.
